

Austin College ACTivators

The ACTivators are a group of Austin College students who work with Chaplain John Williams to plan and lead regional Presbyterian Church (U.S.A.) youth ministry events. ACTivators work with host groups to choose scripture-based themes for youth events and then prepare keynote presentations, small group materials, music, and recreational activities for each event. ACTivators also act as partners with other program organizations, filling leadership roles and working with other church groups who work with children, youth, adults, and senior citizens.

Since its founding in 1995, the ACTivators program has involved 521 Austin College students who have traveled over 162,000 miles to plan and lead 608 ministry events involving over 48,000 children, youth, college students, adults, and senior citizens in 13 states.
