

Visiting Assistant Professor of History

The History Department at Austin College invites applications for a two semester visiting Assistant Professor in United States History for the academic year 2017-2108. Teaching load will be one course in United States Survey from 1877 each semester, with two other advanced courses each during fall and spring semesters chronologically based in the periods from the post-Reconstruction era through the Twentieth Century. Candidates holding a Ph.D. are preferred, although ABD's will be considered with rank of visiting Instructor. Specialties in African-American, Latino, environmental, and/or social and cultural history will be given preference. Commitment to and evidence of undergraduate teaching are required.

Austin College is a selective national liberal arts college with an enrollment of 1300 undergraduates located north of Dallas in Sherman, Texas. Founded in 1849, making it the oldest institution of higher education in Texas operating under original charter and name, the college is related by covenant to the Presbyterian Church (USA). Recognized nationally for academic excellence in the areas of international education, pre-professional training, and leadership studies, Austin College is one of 40 schools profiled in Loren Pope's influential book Colleges That Change Lives.
