Plans for the New Year

As another Austin College January Term unfolds, students are engaged in international study, explorations in New York City and at Ghost Ranch in New Mexico, plus a variety of interesting on-campus courses and activities. The one-month term provides students the opportunity to take a single in-depth course. The term also allows travel that moves beyond the textbook and lectures to hands-on, walking-the-streets learning. Students may also arrange full-time internships and career discovery during the term.

Courses including international study components will take students and faculty to Indonesia, Austria, Cambodia, Chile, the Czech Republic, Denmark, France, Germany Japan, Laos, and Vietnam.

A Standout Servant
Lily Van ’11 is readjusting to life in one place after nearly a year of living out of a suitcase. She spent most of the past year serving in a branch of AmeriCorps called National Civilian Community Corps (NCCC).
