Austin College Art Cars Bring Home Awards

Nine members of the "Driving the Dream" JanTerm class rolled into the 31st Annual Houston Art Car Parade on April 15, and came out winners from among more than 250 art cars and other entries in the largest event of its kind in the world.

Mark Monroe, Austin College associate professor of art, taught the course that explored the accomplishments of artists whose works remain outside the parameters of the established art world.

The students designed, planned, and transformed the cars into street-legal rolling works of art titled “Frankie, the PT Crusher," and “I Keyed My Car.” None of the students are art majors, but all learned a variety of skills needed to create the cars including fiberglass work, painting, and more.
