Campus Shines with Holiday Celebrations

The traditional Service of Lessons and Carols was held on December 6 at Grand Avenue Presbyterian Church and featured selections from Handel’s “Messiah” performed by the Austin College A Capella Choir and Chamber Orchestra. The service was followed by the tree lighting on the front lawn of The President’s Home at Wood House. Students and members of the community have enjoyed the canopy of light down Windsor Mall since late November.

Visit our Facebook for more Holiday Celebration photos

Chief Perry Retires after 37 Years of Service

Chief James Perry’s last patrol as Austin College Chief of Police will be January 3, 2020.

Follow the link for his reflections and plans for the future

Students Design Japanese New Year Greetings for the Year of the Rat

Dr. Mindy Landeck’s Japanese language students were challenged to design Lunar New Year greeting cards, called nengajo, as part of their study of Japanese culture. The cards feature the rat as the Japanese zodiac animal for the upcoming Lunar year. The first-place design, displayed to the right, determined by social media polling, is the work of Jared Grotheus ’21.

To see the other designs and learn more, follow the link

Amy Allen Parker ’95 has received a 2019 APCE (Association of Presbyterian Church Educators) “EMPOWER” Award, honoring a leader who has worked in educational ministry for more than five years, empowering others to engage in ministry and leading the larger church into the future. Amy has served as director of children’s ministry and outreach at First Presbyterian Church of Fort Worth since 2000.
‘Roos Heat Up the Holidays

Follow the ‘Roo athletes as they compete through the month of December. Check out the schedule for a swim/dive meet or basketball game in your area.

The Gift That Truly Keeps on Giving

You can help make the Austin College experience a reality for future students with a gift of any size to scholarships, endowment, or facilities. Make it possible for Austin College to transform students so they can transform the world! Online gifts made by 11:59 p.m. CST, December 31, 2019, will count toward the 2019 tax year.

Thank you!

UPCOMING EVENTS

December
13 Fall Term Ends
23-31 Holiday Break – campus is closed

January
1 New Year's Holiday—campus is closed
2 College Campus Open
6 January Term Begins
15 Fort Worth Huddle Up
18 Martin Luther King Jr. Parade
20 Martin Luther King Jr. Day Community Breakfast
20 Admission: Martin Luther King Jr. Day Preview
25-26 3rd Annual Kangaroo Brawl, Mock Trial
28 January Term Ends

Looking for news about ‘Roos?
Check out the Austin College ‘Roos in the News webpage.