

Reducing Uncertainty

Five Modalities for Fall Courses &
Resilient Teaching

Johnson Center
Summer Series

What is certain?

But we know more than we did

- in March
- in May
- two weeks ago

Five modalities

- Class “as usual”
- Only x% of students present at any given class meeting
- A few students remote for varying periods of time
- Faculty member teaching remotely for some period of time
- Fully remote for a portion of the semester

INTERACTIONS

CONTENT

Resilient Teaching

Characterized by the ability to facilitate learning experiences that are designed to be adaptable to fluctuating and uncertain learning environments

A design approach that attends to the relationship between learning goals and activities

Takes into account how a changing learning environment may require new forms of interactions between teachers, students, content, and tools

Plan for important interactions that facilitate learning

What course design choices can you make that:

- Are adaptive to uncertain learning environments?
- Foster relationships?
- Facilitate interactions?
- Allow for flexibility?
- Align activities with learning goals?

Resilient pedagogy
